Van Amerongen's boyhood memories were shaped by the ethnic influences of his Dutch and Polish heritage, images of roly-poly women in large print dresses and rotund men in baggy trousers. The characters in his panel are older, exaggerated versions of the people from this time. From 1980 to 1990 THE NEIGHBORHOOD graced the comic pages of newspapers across the country. Along with Gary Larson's THE FAR SIDE, it redefined the single panel gag cartoon with short bursts of sophisticated and surreal humor. Van Amerongen introduced BALLARD STREET in 1991 . . . a rich continuation of his singular humor. Jerry Van Amerongen's cartoons have been in continuous syndication for 30 years. Countless greeting cards, calendars, many other licensed products, and now the Internet have created a large and loyal following.

Kick Butt is a special collection of aging cartoons from the Ballard Street cartoon panel. The droopy people of Ballard Street have an unmistakable, if not energetic, approach to aging that's sure to elicit a chuckle from even the moodiest of birthday honorees. Van Amerongen sees "each cartoon panel as a little movie scene, and we're looking at a single frame from a small piece of film—something happened prior to our peek, and something's going to happen afterward." "Most cartoonists ignore the graphic possibilities of the comic strip, but Jerry Van Amerongen understands that a picture can be the funniest part of the story. On a comics page crammed with crudely drawn characters who never move, it's a pleasure to see Jerry's seriously disturbed middle-aged suburbanites. Each panel is deftly composed to let the reader piece together the story behind the caption. Here at last is a strip that's fun to look at." —Bill Watterson, creator of Calvin and Hobbes

The first collection of award-winning comic, Ballard Street, with nine years worth of cartoons in a single volume.

Russian 'master criminals' known as The Board have infiltrated Australian ports, moving contraband at will. Detective Inspector Michael Ballard's relentless pursuit of the group's hierarchy, backed by colleague's John Henderson, and the Serious Crime Taskforce Commander, Peter Donaldson, has struck a hurdle. The Board's tentacles have penetrated the state's political system, the police force, and even big business. Alarmingly, direct threats have been made against Ballard and John and their families, warning them that should the homicide detectives dogged investigations continue, their loved ones will suffer. If that isn't shocking enough, The Board has now set its sights on the first shipment of nuclear waste due to be entombed in the Victorian outback—a scenario that has implications for millions of lives. The three detective's expertise and resolve is about to be tested to the full.

The first Ballard Street cartoon collection, with cartoonist Jerry Van Amerongen (previously of The Neighborhood) creating an assortment of panels.

Whispers of Inspiration is eagerly anticipated by survivors and advocates across the country as meritorious quotes resonate the deep realities of those who have experienced abuse, trauma and triumphs in their live journey. In the debut of her first nationally recognized book, Jennifer Grube offers an eminently distinguished, personally inspired page-turner that will leave the reader with insight into the mind and soul of the survivor. This poignant publication holds a preverbal mirror to the emotion of the survivor while respecting anonymity and publicly recognizing the often hidden health epidemic of child abuse.
